The legislature hereby finds that the provisions of Act No. 403 of the 2001 Regular Session of the Legislature provided for more lenient penalty provisions for certain enumerated crimes and that these penalty provisions were to be applied prospectively. Those penalties changed for the production, manufacturing, distribution, or dispensing or possessing with intent to produce, manufacture, distribute from life imprisonment to imprisonment for not less than five nor more than fifty years at hard labor, at least five years of which shall be served without benefit of probation or suspension of sentence. There are many individuals who were convicted of these offenses who have been incarcerated for periods greater than the minimum mandatory sentences which are in current law and are not eligible for parole consideration. While balancing the needs of the criminal justice system with changes which have been made to the penalty provisions now in effect, the legislature finds that it is in the interest of fairness that such individuals who have been incarcerated for many years for crimes involving heroin should be entitled to be considered for parole.
